THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL, for April contains the portraits and biographies of Harvey P Peet, LL. D., the eminent instructor of the deaf and dumb; Jas T Brady, the distinguished lawyer; Henry D Barron, the legislator; Henry Frank the Jewish publisher: besides sketches and illustrated articles on Hiram Powers and John Stuart Mill; Phrenology and Religion; Fish Culture, with nine engravings: Napoleon's Head: Nothing but a Baby; the Planchett Mystery; Crescendo, an illustrated poem; Japanese Houses; a good Inheritance; Industry and Respectability; Is there an open Polar Sea? Music. Price $3 a year or 30 cts a number. S R Wells Publisher, 389 Broadway, N. Y.

BETTER VIEWS OF LIVING is the title of a handsomely printed volume from the press of Adams & Co., Boston—written by Dr. A. B. Child, of the same place. Or the title more fully expressed is, Better Views of Living, or life according to the doctrine of "whatever is, is right." Notwithstanding the forbidding quotation from Pope—that is forbidding in the sense in which the expression is commonly viewed—the writer certainly inculcates many noble sentiments, well expressed; still, some of his positions are far in advance of the present times, and therefore, as it seems to us, liable to be misapprehended. But the patient reader who goes through this little book will find much to admire, though a very large portion of it is quite contrary to the popular religious teachings. New thoughts freely expressed at first repel us, but often when we examine them they will ultimately secure our assent. It seems to us that this may be the experience of the new work here referred to.

TILTON'S Journal of Horticulture for March still mantains its characteristics, not only for elegance and style, but also for utility in its practical, thorough teachings in the branches of industry and art to which the work is devoted. The contents of the present number is everything the reader would wish. Tilton & Co., Boston.

THE ATLANTIC for April contains the following articles: Malborne, an Oldport Romance. Part IV. By T W Higginson; The Mission of Birds, by Thomas M Brewer: Autobiography of a Shaker, first paper, by F W Evans: Run Wild, by Bayard Taylor; A Strange Arrival, by J W DeForest: How we Grow in the Great Northwest, by S H Gay: A Carpet Bagger in Pennsylvania, by J T Trowbridge; The Foe in the Household, part II, by the author of Victor and Jacqueline. Our Irebuntes, Classified and Claified; Doorstep Acquaintance, by D W Howells; The Pacific Railroad—Open, by Samuel Bowles; A Ride with a Mad Horse in a Freight Car, by W H Murray; To Day, by Mrs S M B Piatt: Reviews and Literary Notices. Fields, Osgood & Co., Publishers, Boston.

The Secrets of the Great City: a work descriptive of the virtues and vices, the mysteries, miseries, and crimes, of New York city, is the title of a handsome volume, just issued by Jones Bro's. & Co., Cincinnati, O.

It tells how fortunes are made and lost in a day—How shrewd men are ruined in Wall street—How countrymen are swindled by sharpers—How ministers and merchants are blackmailed—How dance halls and concert saloons are managed—How gambling houses and lotteries are conducted—and treats of New York, its people, its society, its rich, its poor, their life, their habits, their haunts and their peculiarities: it tells of Broadway, Central Park, Five Points, of Pawnbrokers, Roughs, Fortune Tellers, Quacks, Gift Enterprises and Humbugs.

As the Metropolitan Centre of the United States, New York city reflects all the good and evil of the land in their most intense forms. There is no man, however often he may have visited New York, who cannot learn from this work, much regarding the great city and its many and mighty interests.

This book will be found especially valuable to those who expect to visit New York, and would shun its pitfalls, by studying it in their own homes, without cost or danger, and yet learn all.

This very interesting work is sold only by subscription, and the publishers want an agent in every county.

In the April Riverside, Hans Andersen sends a special greeting to his young friends in America. His pretty story, Luck may lie in a Pin, ends with a word to his readers which every child lover of Andresen ought to see. Andersen's connection with the Riverside seems to be a fast one; each month he sends some new story which is printed for American children before Danish children may see it. Porte Crayon re appears here in his serial, The Young Virginians. Dr Abbott tells a big fish story. Mr Benjamin begins a series of rambles about Constantinople. The other articles are Suggestions for Tableaux, Sitting in the Midst of the Doctors, Tom and Jom; and finally as it began with a frontispiece of boys playing horse, it ends with a Velocipede Race. A lively out of doors number. Published by Hurd & Houghton New York. $2,50 a year.

The importation of rags from the Mediterranean, hides from Brazil, and other commodities from the tropics, is known to bring the germs of disease, chiefly fevers, which are sometimes very afflicting and fatal. Ayer's ague cure stimulates the liver to excrete these germs from the system as effectually as it does the miasmatic poison of our ague districts. Consequently it affords invaluable protection to stevedores and others whose occupations expose them to these dangerous infections: and we hope to render them a valuable service in giving them this information.—N Y Dispatch.

A Shaker "Illuminated."

BY F. W. EVANS.

Some persons may be curious to know what particular kind of spiritual manifestation it was that could convince so confirmed an infidel and Materialist. It was so spiritual that whilst it fully met my case, I never have seen, how I could put it into words, and do justice to the heavenly visitants or myself. In fact, I have always felt much as did a tribe of negroes whom Livingston found in the interior of Africa, and whom he designates the African Quakers, because they will not fight; when he began to act the missionary to them, by preaching his kind of religion, they replied to him, in a whisper, 'Hush! hush!" It was too sacred a subject for them to clothe in audible words. Even the Jews would never utter the sacred word "Jehovah"—He-She except in a whisper.

In one of the first meetings that I attended I saw a brother exercised in a slight way outwardly; and it gave me the first evidence that began to produce in me faith in the spiritual. For I held that no person could believe or disbelieve, at his or her own option; belief being solely the result of evidence.

One night, soon after retiring, I heard a rustling sound, as of the wings of a flock of doves flying through the window (which was closed) towards my bed; and, that I believed it to be supernatural, and that the faith in the supernatural, which the servants had planted in my soul by their oft told ghost stories, had not wholly died out, was evidenced by the fact that I was frightened, and hid my head beneath the bedclothes. For this faith was never planted by the priest whose text I used to learn; nor by the sexton who now and then gave me a rap on the head; because neither the priest nor his people (who informed me every time I met with them, that they had, during the past week, been doing those things which they ought not to have done; and that they were miserable sinners) had succeeded in attracting my attention to, or in the least degree interesting me in, supernatural or spiritual existences of another world.

I soon recovered my self possession, and found that a singular mental phenomenon was going on. I was positively illuminated. My reasoning powers were enhanced a hundred fold. I could see a chain of problems or propositions, as in a book, all spread out before me at once, starting from a fact that I did admit and believed; and leading me, step by step, mathematically, to a given conclusion, which I had not hitherto believed. I then discovered that I had powers within me that I knew not of. I was multiplied and magnified and intensly interested. I was reasoning as I never before reasoned. Doubting was at a discount; for here were facts, something of which my senses were cognizant,—my physical, mental, rational, and spiritual senses; and I knew that intelligences not clothed in what I had called matter were present with me, reasoning with me more purely and logically than hitherto had any mere mortal man or woman has ever done since. This first visitation of angels to me continued till about one o'clock in the morning, having lasted several hours. I had now new material for thought.

The next night they came again. This time it was spirit acting upon matter. Something began at my feet, and operated as palpably as water or fire, or electricity; but it was neither; to me it was a new force, or element, or power; call it what you please. I reasoned upon it. There was no pain, but fact. It passed quite slowly upward throughout my whole body.

These visitations recurred nightly for three weeks, always different, always kind and pleasant; but were addressed directly to my rationality, showing me the facts of the existence of a spiritual world, of the immortality of the human soul, and of the possibility and reality of intercommunication between souls in and spirits out of the mortal body.—ATLANTIC MONTHLY for April.

More Haste Less Speed.

'Shall I reach Tourney to-night before the gates are shut?' asked a wagoner, who was driving an empty cart drawn by a pair of horses at great speed, of another whom he passed driving a similar vehicle slowly along a high road in France. Shall I be able to reach there to-night before they shut the gates, he repeated impatiently.

'Yes, you'll be there in plenty of time if you drive slowly,' replied the second wagoner, and he proceeded on his way, while the first drove rapidly by, exclaiming:

'A pretty way to get to one's destination, to drive, slowly, and waste time on the road! No, no, that won't suit me. I'll go as fast as my horses can lay legs to the ground.' And he shook the reins and urged his horses to a still greater speed.

Meanwhile the driver who had given him the good advice proceeded slowly on his way. Presently noticed that one of his horses had lost a nail from one of its shoes.

'This won't do,' said the driver, 'best remedy a small evil at once.'

So he drove on as carefully as possible, lest the shoe that was claptrapping in a loose manner should fall off altogether. And at the next smithy he halted, and unharnessed the good old horse from the wagon. The smith brought his tools, and in a few minutes honest Ball's shoe was fixed on as tight as ever.

'Only a quarter of an hour lost,' he said 'but we can move on the more briskly for the delay; so here we start again.'

Thus he went on steadily and persevering, and arrived at Tourney a full quarter hour before the gates were shut.

And how fared it with the other wagoner, who could not afford to go steadily, lest he should arrive too late? Listen and you shall hear.

He drove on, increasing his speed as the time wore on. Presently he noticed the horse on the left beginning to limp.

'Foolish beast!' he said, 'who is to get down now, I wonder, to look after your ailment? If you have a stone in your foot you may shake it out the best you can. I cannot afford to wait for you to day.'

And he gave a loud crack of the whip on the back of the poor horse, so that it gave a plunge, and stumbled one faster than before.

The horse began to limp more than before. The stone was still there, and the hoof was becoming bruised and sore; but the wagoner would not stop a moment. But now a rough piece of road is to be traversed, surely our driver will check his speed here, and proceed slowly?

But no; he only thinks of getting to his destination as quickly as possible. He urges on his horses; the poor beast who has fallen lame gives a desperate plunge, and falling down, breaks the pole of the wagon asunder.

No thought now of reaching Tourney that night. The best thing to be done is to seek assistance at the next farm house, and go in quest of a carpenter or wheelright, when he comes, says that the necessary repairs will occupy at least twenty-four hours, and that he cannot drive his wagon into Tourney until the second day after the accident.

Then the driver wished he had taken the advice of his comrade, and made less haste in the first instance to get on; and he understood how much truth there is in the saying: 'The more haste the less speed.'

Open Polar Sea.

The question of the existence of an open polar sea in the ice-bound north has many disputants, pro and contra. The views held by many writers are for the most part speculative; yet, if the declarations of those arctic explorers who penetrated farthest to the north and brought back some definite information relative to the scenes with which their perilous researches brought them in contact, are to be received as worthy of our confidence, some credit must be given to the opinion that an open polar sea does exist. Capt Parry, as early as 1820, penetrated to nearly 83° north latitude, and found, not an unbroken field of ice as would be at so high a latitude, but separate floes, with more or less open water between them. The damage sustained by his vessels amid this floating ice induced his return. Parry found the temperature along the western shore of Spitzbergen unexpectedly mild, even rain falling now and then. Dr Kane, in 1855, penetrated a little beyond 81°, and found evidences sufficient to warrant him, in his report of his expedition to the navy department of the United States, to state that he had discovered a large channel to the northwest, free from ice, and leading into an open and expanding sea equally free from ice. The open sea he states he beheld from a promontory 240 feet high, and to use his own words, "A gale from the northeast of fifty-four hours duration, brought a heavy swell from that quarter without disclosing any drift or other ice." The statements of Parry and Kane are the most definite of arctic explorers on the subject of an open polar sea. But even were its existance a fact, the impossibility of its use for naval purposes is apparant on account of the dangers surrounding its approaches.—Phrenological Journal for April.

How the Laws are Made.

Butler is the most useful man in congress. He rips up queer topics every now and then, and his utter indifference as to whether there is a row or not prevents his holding his tongue for fear of the consequences. He has just let the light in on a little known phase of legislation. It would appear that when a bill has gone through the hands of senate and house it is a rather defaced document, with interlineations, and blots and what not. In this somewhat illegible condition it goes to an engrossing clerk, who copies it out to the best of his ability, "making sense" as he can, poor fellow. Some clauses it would appear he may possibly drop, and there seems a certain likelihood that if it were to the interest of the whisky ring—about a hundred thousand dollars—that he should not see a certain clause, he might be blind as to that clause—yes, though it were underlined to make it conspicuous. Of course the senses are fallible. By this process it appears that there has been dropped somewhere a clause that modifies a certain law so as to rob the government of one million and a half dollars and give it to the whisky men. It is a startling fact that when Butler opened this subject, not mentioned before in public, the chairman of the committee on ways and means seemed to be in possession of all the points of argument against him. He knew all about it.

INSURANCE DECISION.—A decision made by the state Auditor, recently makes it obligatory on all foreign insurance companies to publish their annual statements. Policies issued by companies without such publication are illegal and consequently null and void. This is an interesting fact both to the insured as well as the insurer. Look well to your policies.

Massillon, Wednesday, March 31.

Constitutional Amendment—YES.

Our legislature has decided that a new penitentiary is to be built, but as to where it is to be located is yet an open question. As far as present appearances indicate it looks as if the chances in favor of Massillon are about as good as those of competing places.

Open a democratic paper these days, and in nine cases out of ten the reader will find the selections to consist of tremendous supposed quarrels among the radicals. If a fraction of these stories were true the radicals must be the most contentious people in the world—they do nothing but fight each other. Yet in the face of all this these same rads dont disagree so badly as to disable them from electing presidents—which they have done three times in succession, and having vast majorities in both houses of congress. The cops had better look a little out to their own family feuds.

Many years ago the Ohio legislature passed a law authorizing a geological survey of the state. But a small portion of the work was done, when a democratic legislature, seized with an unusual fit of economy, repealed the statute, and little or nothing has been done since in investigating our mineral resources. Recently our law makers at Columbus have re-enacted such a law, and it is hoped now that the work will be carried through. The democracy of the present day must have credit for advancing a little, for they have this legislature.

The appointment by the president of General Longstreet, one of the leading rebel chiefs during the war, to the collectorship of New Orleans, is eliciting considerable criticism. Since the war Longstreet has been a working union man, and did everything he could to promote correct political sentiments—so much so that southern unrepentant rebels and northern copperheads have berated him about as bad as they did Sumner. Almost everybody has so much confidence in the president's judgment that the appointment is responded to with words of approval, still it would be well for him to not make a practice of placing ex rebels in high offices.

We announce in this week's issue the name of Samuel C. Bowman as a candidate for the legislature. It is entirely unnecessary for us to say to our citizens anything regarding the ability, integrity or fitness of Mr Bowman for this position. In Massillon and vicinity he is so well known that any recommendation from us would be useless. To those who are unacquainted with Mr B. we can only say that he is a staunch republican, a competent man and a gentleman fully entitled to confidence and support. It was only at the urgent solicitation of his friends that Mr B. consented to be a candidate. We bespeak for him the support of every republican who favors economical and judicious legislation.

We understand that a movement is being made by certain parties to effect a removal of the revenue collector for this district, Mr Kent Jarvis of this place. We feel assured that our worthy member of congress, Judge Ambler will not undertake to secure the removal of Mr Jarvis. There is certainly no necessity for a change but on the contrary there are many reasons why no change should be made. The duties of the office are intricate and responsible and the unbounded energy and great application of Mr J. are the qualifications needed, in connection with honesty and firmness. We hope Judge Ambler and the commissioner will turn a deaf ear upon all who urge a change. Let us have peace and when a good citizen faithfully discharges the duties of his office, let us have no change.

The following call for a state convention has been issued. For the present it may not cause a ripple in the political waters, but the time is coming when it will challenge attention. No doubt many good men will regard this action as premature—as uncalled for—and prophesy failure. As we understand it, this movement is not inaugurated, because of opposition which temperance men feel toward the different political parties, but for the reason that these parties ignore the great principles of temperance, for hitherto they have been allied with one or the other political divisions. The measure is resorted to rather in consequence of the positive necessity for such a movement. The following call has been signed by some one hundred and sixty names of persons living in fifty five counties of Ohio:

Call for a State Temperance Convention to organize a state temperance party.

The prevalence of intemperance and its concomitant evils, pauperism, crime, disease and death;

The fact that with our present unorganized temperance strength, we are unable to elect men to office pledged to our principles, thus failing to secure the enforcement of even existing laws;

That present political organizations not only ignore the temperance issue, but, while making use of the whisky interest as the principal lever for the advancement of their ends, are working in direct and open opposition to temperance reformation, and that from them, as organizations, we have nothing to expect;

That our present temperance organizations, while doing good as far as their rules and pledges enable them, nevertheless are inoperative to perform the whole work of educating the people to temperance, which can only be done by making the subject a political question;

That the permanent success of any party depends upon the high moral stand which it takes;

That to this end, the principal plank in our platform should be the suppression of the liquor traffic, through a prohibitory liquor law, and the election of sober and upright men to office;

That while those connected with the whisky interest are openly pledged to cast their votes for no man favoring temperance, or the enforcement of temperance laws, we accept the challenge thus defiantly sent forth, and will demonstrate our consistency by reversing the pledge;

That the question of most vital importance to our state and country at the present moment is temperance, and as such, demands immediate and determined action at the hands of all, who have a respect for the Sabbath, morality, intelligence, virtue, prosperity, home and country;

Recognizing these as facts, and believing that the time for action is now, and that a longer delay would, not only be injudicious, but highly criminal, with an abiding faith in the justice of our principles, we ask of all who are in favor of immediate, determined and independent political action, as applied to temperance, and none others, to meet with us in convention at Crestline, on the 14th and 15th of April 1869, there to organize a state temperance party, with Prohibition for its foundation.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, March 26, 1869.

The committee on territories has postponed the consideration of the bills to providing a government for Alaska, and in relation to female suffrage in the territories, until next December. The committee on banking and currency has appointed a sub committee to prepare a bill for the re-distribution of the currency; and exertions will be made to pass it at this session. The special committee to inquire into the causes of the delay of American commerce, and what means should be adopted to revive it, consists of Lynch of Me., Buffington of Mass., Washburne of Wis., Hotchkiss of N Y., Morrell of Pa, Judd of Ill., Holman of Ind., Calking of N Y., and Wells of Mo. The senate committee on post offices and post roads have agreed to report a bill giving inland and sea postages to three lines of mail steamships between this country and foreign ports, two owned in New York and one in Boston. This settles the lobby fight of the past winter between the rival lines. The house committee on military affairs has agreed upon a joint resolution extending for one year the law increasing the pay of soldiers to $16 per month. The law would otherwise expire next August, and the pay return, I think, $13, or $11, per month. The increased pay of officers runs another year, and the committee, although in favor of retrenchment, is not willing the enlisted men be cut down until the officers are. The census committee, who have been engaged for some time in arranging a plan for taking the next census, have agreed upon a bill. It establishes a census bureau, with a superintendent at its head, at a salary of four thousand dollars a year. One assistant superintendent is to be appointed in each congressional district, at a salary of eight dollars per day, with authority to appoint as many assistants as is necessary in order that the census may be taken in two months. The basis of representation hereafter to be one hundred and fifty thousand, which will make about two hundred and seventy members of the house for the next decade.

The national executive committee of colored men, at a meeting Thursday evening, discussed the best method of obtaining a recognition of the claims of the colored people to a share of the places under the federal government. Miss E. J. Ketcham, a colored woman of Philadelphia, has been appointed a clerk in the treasury department. She is the first instance of any of the race being appointed to a clerkship in any of the departments. With colored clerks; colored representatives in congress, as Menard; colored members of legislature, as in some of the southern states; colored candidates for lieutenant governorship, as in Virginia; and colored candidates to represent the Great Republic abroad as Dumas and Bassett for the mission to Hayti; the colored people are looking up.

It seems to have been decided that a new solution of the Indian problem shall be attempted. The Quakers of Philadelphia, who have lately had an interview with the president, recommended the Wm Penn policy, and Gen Eli Parker late of Gen Grant's staff, a pure Indian, for commissioner of Indian affairs; and both recommendations, it seems, are to be adopted. Well, after Sheridan and Custar's dealings with them, Penn-like treatment would be very acceptable to them; and it is hoped, will answer the purpose. When young Bonaparte, the artillerist of Toulon, was called upon by the Directory to suppress the mob in Paris, he shotted a cannon stationed at the top of the street into which the mob had principally gathered, and sent death and destruction into the very heart of it. After that the populace continued their flight although he fired nothing subsequently but blank cartridges; and when he fired no more, they were glad to stay quietly in their homes and be let alone. Sheridan and Custar have put the Indians, for the time being, no doubt, into this pacific state of mind; and they will for the present, be very glad to see our excellent Quaker friends coming with the pipe of peace and the compliments of their brother Parker in their mouths! Seriously, good will come of it. Things are mixed in this world.

The Ex-President is reported recovering from his recent sudden illness at his home in Tenn.

The House this afternoon refused to concur in the Senate's amendment of its civil tenure bill.

J. EVANS.

We fancy some of the evidence given as to English literature and journalism, in the Reade and Sweetzer trial, will amaze a good many London authors and publishers. The evidence as to the circulation and influence of certain journals was very funny. The statement that Charles Reade gets higher prices for his writings than any other author in England except Dickens was likewise not bad—if meant as a joke. Better still was the grave evidence, given apparently in good faith, that there were rumors at one time in London about Dickens employing persons to help him in writing the Christmas stories, and that Dickens and his friends found it necessary to explain or refute these reports. The fact is that these Christmas numbers were always avowedly and notoriously written by different hands, Mr Dickens only supplying the literary thread which strung them together; that in many cases the names of the writers (Andrew Halliday, John Hollingshead, Charles Collins, brother of Wilkes Collins, "Hesba Stretton," and others) were printed in all the advertisements of the stories; and that until the Reade trial in New York nobody ever supposed or suggested that there was any mystery, doubt, rumor, concealment, or denial about the whole matter.—N Y Independent.

The Buffalo Courier says:

As previously announced by us, the United States coast survey officers have been engaged for some time past in making an astronomical observation, by the aid of telegraph, between the cities of the far west and Cambridge University. For the purpose of arriving at the difference in mean time between San Francisco and Boston, the wires of the Western Union Telegraph company have nightly been connected, for nearly a month past, from one side of the continent to the other, and the ticking of a chronometer in Cambridge University has been observed and recorded in San Francisco with a most remarkable degree of accuracy. This is done by connecting the pendulum of the chronometer at Cambridge with the wire, in such a manner that the main circuit is broken and immediately closed again at every beat or tick of the time piece, and the result is that each second of time, as marked by the chronometer at Cambridge, goes forth from the University on the Atlantic coast, and, with almost the speed of light itself, hurries on over the magic wire, passing through intermediate cities, towns and villages, across rivers, over mountains and along the open country, until it finally reaches the recording instrument on the Pacific coast, in all of its original fullness of pulsation. The route is from Boston through Albany, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City, and Virginia City to San Francisco, and this route is of course doubled, forming for all practical purposes but a single circuit. The places in italics above, indicate where repeaters are used to form the double circuit.

The Legislature has amended the homestead law, so as to exempt from sale on execution a family homestead of the value of 1,000, instead of $500, heretofore, and, in the absence of a homestead, personal property to the value of $500, instead of $300, as under the old law.

SPAIN—A KING AD INTERIM.—A committee properly appointed has given in its report to the Spanish Cortes on a new constitution. Some of the recommendations are old. One recommendation at least is old—that a king, or queen, or emperor or empress should have a trial of eighteen years. Eighteen years is a pretty good term for the incumbent, but it might prove very inconvenient for the people. Louis Napoleon did not require so long a period to make himself emperor of the French. A shorter period might prove a weaker man than Louis Napoleon a bore or something worse. It does not appear from any present manifestations that the Latin races are improving in the art of self government. A king for eighteen years is a king only ad interim, but the interim is unconscionably long.

THE BEAUTIES OF LOYALTY.—The application of oaths so largely made in the south by the government, and the disfranchisement of all refusing to do stringent swearing, receives a very odd illustration in Missouri. Frank P Blair, Jr., lately candidate for vice president, is disfranchised in his own state because of his activity as a union soldier early in the war. The oath requires the voter to swear, among other things, that he has never taken up arms against the state. Early in the war Missouri was in the hands of the rebels, and her Governor organized as state troops a secession force. Blair helped to capture that force, and therefore cannot take the oath.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you allow me through the columns of your paper, to say a few words respecting the recent examination of the Union School of this city. It was not my privilege to be present during the entire week, but from the observation that I was able to make, I may say, that the examinations were highly creditable to teachers and scholars, and gave very general satisfaction. It was repeatedly remarked that it was the best examination ever held in Massillon. The attendance was large, and a noticable feature was the large number of old residents present who had no scholars in the school. The marked attention given by the audience evinced a deep interest in all the performances. Even the Latin recitation, which was stated not to be in the regular course, was listened to with a good degree of pleasure; the scholars manifested such proficiency in it.

The graduating class numbered eight, which was very much larger than any previous one. The scholars acquitted themselves in recitations, declamation and composition with much credit. The orderly deportment of the various departments deserve especial praise. A well disciplined school is the result of patient exertion on the part of the teachers. The scholars also showed a great advance in the science of music. Their capable and energetic instructor showed taste in the selection of pieces, the time was excellent, and the voices blended in perfect harmony. The amount of musical talent in our school is really surprising. Nellie Wildwood, a piece sung by the seniors, was very pleasing. Several pieces of a devotional character brought out the voices finely. It is very desirable that the examinations be held in a larger hall, if possible. The assembly room was very much crowded on the last day. We would suggest that the scholars be more thoroughly drilled in elocution, as several of them failed to make themselves heard distinctly in the more remote parts of the room. Some of the declamations were very finely delivered, and drew forth much praise. Several good addresses were made toward the close, by the superintendent, trustees, and others from abroad. Our schools are just cause for pride, and it is to be hoped that every facility will be afforded the teachers for the accomplishment of their purposes for the good of the school, and for raising the standard of education in the community. The remarks of Prof Kimball, the superintendent, were pertinent and decided, and worthy the attention of parents and guardians. The hearty co-operation of parents should be rendered to faithful and earnest teachers. The scholars of the High School reflected credit upon the teachers in the lower grades, by whom they have been trained and passed up higher.

It would be well for the graduates to remember that they have not finished their education. The foundation has been laid broad and deep, and a taste for knowledge formed, which must be expanded by cultivation and intercourse with the best authors, in higher branches of study. Some one has said, "The more advanced universities make the schools."

"RIVERSIDE" Lots For Sale.

That beautiful tract of land known as the

on the bluff west of Massillon and on the bank of the Tuscarawas river, together with joining lands has just been divided into lots, which are recorded as the Riverside Addition to the town of Massillon.

The lots are of good size and will be sold at such easy terms of payment as to place a home with in the reach of all. The beauty of the location is unsurpassed, and we believe it is a conceded fact that a location on the west bank of a running stream of water is always more healthy than one on the east bank.

It is apparent to all that the business and population of Massillon are very rapidly increasing; it is also apparent that public attention is directed to the west side of the river as the most desirable point for a home now in the market or that probably ever will be in the market again. We think therefore that it is safe to predict that in a very few years this grand addition

RIVERSIDE,

Will be covered over with dwelling houses, which will be occupied by a large proportion of the busy citizens of the city of Massillon.

Every man who has a family, or ever expects to have one, ought to have a home in his own right, then he will be independent, if not rich. A better opportunity will never again be offered of securing one so desirable, so cheap, and so easily paid for.

Also a very desirable out lot, of about eight acres, adjoining Massillon in the Canton road, will divide well into three or four pasture lots. Also some beautiful lots in the east part of the city.

The plats may be examined, and lots selected at my store. [292] P. G. ALBRIGHT.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has anything won so widely and so deep upon the confidence of mankind, as this cherry remedy for pulmonary complaints. Its sovereign control over these, and among most of the forms of men to which they are liable, has given it a world-wide reputation, and made it known to every household as the friend to be relied on when the disease fastens on the throat and lungs. As a protection against the fatal attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although a settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral, so complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bitumin, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is powerless to injure any patient. The number and prominence of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicines. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in cases of Chills and Fever, of long standing, and where other remedies had failed to cure.

Unfortunate persons of these districts should not be tortured by Quinine only to be left in a worse condition than they were before, but should procure AYER'S AGUE CURE, and be cured. The Ayer Company will pay $1000 for a case of Fever and Ague, Intermittent, Remittent, or Bilious Fever, which this Ague Cure fails to cure.

For Biliousness, Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint, it is an excellent remedy, producing in many cases the most remarkable cures, where other medicines have failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THE large number of our citizens who were present at the school examinations during last week, concur in expressing their sincere gratification at the complete success which marked them all—from the primaries to the high school. Especially was a large crowded hall of our citizens gratified at the proficiency which the high school classes manifested in various branches of education on Friday. Everything connected with it passed off most pleasantly. There appeared to be a unity of feeling and action in all that transpired—no jarring or collision whatever. Those young ladies and gentlemen (some eight or nine) who received diplomas added special interest to the examination in the production of original essays and orations; and the remark was made by many present that many of their thoughts were well expressed, in choice phases and elevated in tone and character. It certainly is a source of sincere satisfaction to parents, and our citizens generally, to witness such grateful exhibitions of progress as were there given. Prof. Kimball has once more given evidence of his ability to instruct and manage a school, and no doubt every friend of education in this vicinity is sincerely gratified with his success, aided, as he is, by such an efficient corps of teachers. At appropriate intervals many of the students, led by Prof. Ickes favored the attentive audience with appropriate, lively music; and the classes participating gave evidence, that, in addition to their other studies, they are advancing in this beautiful art. The interesting exercises were concluded with very appropriate speeches by Prof Kimball, James Harsh, Esq, of Finley, Wm C Earl of Toledo, concluding with a few impressive remarks by Hon George Harsh.

The West Massillon school gave an entertainment, consisting of dialogues, dramas, original and select orations, music, &c., on Tuesday evening the 23d inst. It was a decided success, for Madison Hall was well filled, and so far as we have heard an expression, all were highly gratified. Mr B F Bowman, the teacher, has thus given evidence that success attends his laudable efforts. The receipts of the evening largely exceeded the expenses, and they were donated to worthy objects of benevolence.

DEATH OF T. S. WOODS.—Those of our citizens who were acquainted with Mr. W. were astounded Monday on reading of his death among the telegrams of the morning dailies. He complained of feeling unwell last Saturday, sat down by the side of his wife, and in a few moments laid himself on a sofa, when his spirit immediately passed away. Mr W was a lawyer by profession, and in that relation performed his duty toward his clients with ability, integrity, and energy, and we believe had the universal respect of brethren of the profession. In addition to his legal duties some ten or twelve years ago he purchased the Ohio Patriot, the organ of the democratic party for Columbiana county, and has been its editor ever since. As a writer he was often pungent, generally brief, and always direct; and although many of us disliked his politics, yet his earnest devotion to his peculiar political theories commanded respect from all. In all the relations of life in which we have seen him he was genial, affable, enjoyed life's pleasantries, and was an agreeable member of any social circle that he entered. But a few days ago he was married to Mrs Potter-widow of the late judge Potter, of New Lisbon. Ere the honey-moon had fairly passed away his spirit was transferred to another sphere of existence, and the widow again mourns her sudden and unexpected loss.

Hon. George Harsh in his very appropriate valedictory as school director, at the examination last Friday, stated that he had served in that capacity for the last eighteen years. That is unmistakable evidence of his efficiency in this capacity; and the Massillon union schools will be very fortunate if they secure the services of one who is equally qualified for such a responsible position. It is also a bright testimonial of the unfailing confidence which the friends of education here reposed in Mr Harsh's administrative abilities in behalf of education.

About the first of the coming month two families who have resided here many years, will remove to Cleveland—the families of John McClymonds and Thomas H Williams, Both these men have been in active life here, and our community will miss them.

Mr Lœffler has erected a very neat and commodious frame building on the corner of Mill street and the alley between Charles and Main streets, which is to be used by Messrs Saal as a meat market. It is a very good location for that purpose.

Building has already actively commenced. Go in any part of the city and we can see new houses either in progress or finished. This is but the beginning of the season—the end of the year will witness many more such improvements.

It was reported one day last week, but on what authority we are not informed, that parties have been prospecting here with a view of starting another manufactory for making agricultural implements. There seems to be no limit in the demand for such machinery, and possibly a third establishment would prosper here as the two are now doing.

W. F. Ricks has just left for New York, and will purchase a choice stock of fancy and staple dry goods which will soon be offered for sale. Meanwhile Ricks & Bro. are offering bargains in prints and delains to make ready for new goods.

There is no better carbon oil than that made at the Drummond Oil Works at Steubenville, O. The proprietors, Messrs. Andrews, Orr & Co. have succeeded in making a superior article of illuminating oil. P G Albright has for sale some of this oil, give it a trial.

ED INDEPENDENT.—Please give notice to the voters of ward 2, that in consequence of the withdrawal of our assessor, we recommend that the name of Martin Shaffer be put upon the ticket, to be voted for at the coming election, and oblige many voters of ward 2.

School books of all kinds, pens and paper, slates, portfolios, pencils, copy books, composition books, and in fact everything for a school outfit at the news room.

THE first of April is almost here—and a moving time it will be—for certainly it will not be an exception in this respect to previous first of Aprils. This annual changing places is an unfortunate necessity for a large portion of our people, and often an expensive losing business. But those who have it to do generally submit to the alternative with resignation, as if the fates decreed it.

FINNEY & Co. are giving instructions the present week, at Tremont Hall, in the stone block, to all who wish to acquire this new art, that of traveling on the velocipede. This and to-morrow evenings Miss Jennie Williams, who is skilled in this new method of locomotion, will practice in the hall.

IN consequence of recent rains and melting of the snow the Tuscarawas rose rapidly Friday and Saturday, and although it began to recede on Sunday, in many places in this vicinity, the banks were overflowed, fields inundated, and numerous houses on or near the margin were partly surrounded; but we have not heard of any dwellings where the inmates had to retreat, yet several of them narrowly escaped such an emergency. Just beyond the gas works the stream looked almost or quite as wide as the Ohio river. No doubt considerable losses have been sustained in the way of fences, bridges and other property. The gasometer was drowned out on Sunday, so darkness prevailed over the city, excepting what light the moon furnished, and in consequence of this calamity no evening services were held at the churches.

Mr. Burton's furnace stopped one day last week, for a short time, to make such repairs as are naturally incident to the wear and tear of such works.

The following are the republican nominations for township and city officers for the ensuing year.

Township Ticket –Trustees, W C Richards, S C Bowman, James H Justice; Clerk, Isaac H Brown; Assessor, Noah Seaman; Treasurer, Nahum S Russell; Constable, Benjamin Raser.

City Ticket—Treasurer, John B Dangler; Solicitor, R H Folger; Marshal; Harvey Seaman; Engineer, A F Beach; Street Commissioner, John Hewes; Councilmen, 1st ward, C London; 2d ward, J H Ogden; 3d ward, S A Conrad; 4th ward, S Parsons; Assessors, 1st ward, Isaac Crooks; 2d ward, D W Jeffries; 3d ward, Peter Welker; 4th ward, ——.

Religious services were more than usually active here on last Sunday, as it was Easter day—and some denominations are strict in the observances their ecclesiastical authorities require of them. Good Friday was also duly observed.

The latest, or rather one of the latest improvements to travel by velocipede means, is a machine of this class to go on water—the project of a Boston man. As to the varieties of the article to travel on land, their number is legion.

The number of pupils connected with our union schools is 540—sometimes reaching 600 or over. In this West Massillon is not included, nor are the two German Lutheran and the two Catholic schools included. The five last named will reach 500 or 600—so that we may safely say the school children of the city numbers at least one thousand.

The republican nominations for township and city candidates excited considerable interest, and many of the candidates and their friends worked vigorously. Differing on local and municipal questions each labored to carry out his idea—and the result is, that those who received the highest number of votes were declared the nominees. Elsewhere the tickets as selected appear.

The Cleveland Musical World announces that it is proposed to have a grand chorus of 300 singers, among the best to be found in this region of the country, to be held at Mansfield. Experienced and well qualified gentlemen, of Boston and New York, are promised to be present—Julius Eichberg of Boston is to be director, and J M Wilder, of New York, is to be the base solo. Among the celebrated pieces of musical composition promised is the Oratoro of the Creation entire. It will be interesting to musical connoisseurs to hear that grand piece of harmony. The entertainment is to commence on the 19th and continue to the 23d of April.

The powder house on the banks of the river had to be emptied of its contents, as the river was rising, for if the proprietors had not done so their powder would have been pretty well drowned out, as the building was very wet—partly inundated.

RECORD OF A STRONG COMPANY.—The National Life Insurance company, which received its character from the national congress in July last, has already made its record in unmistakable characters. With its agencies as yet only in process of organization, it has, as we learn, issued insurance to an amount exceeding seven million dollars. This we think is very marked success—it is so much needful work well done.

The company does a strictly cash business as being in its judgment the simplest and best for both the insurer and the insured, and it never complicates its affairs with either notes, loans, or dividends, and thus leaves no door open to misapprehension or disappointment in the future. While the principle of so much insurance for so much money is rigidly adhered to, and every policy has thus a fixed and determined value, all accumulations that might otherwise be declared as dividends at some future time, are discounted in advance, and the exact pro rata is counted in with the amount of each policy when it is issued.

Managed by men of the highest financial ability and undoubted integrity, protected by a large paid up cash capital, and possessing all the elements that have given success to other similar enterprises, we should expect this would become one of the most successful institutions of its kind.

ED. INDEPENDENT.—Announce the name of S C Bowman, of Massillon, as a candidate for the state legislature, subject to nomination by the union republican party.

PERRY TOWNSHIP.

We understand that Profs Wilder & Humer are prospering and will keep their school open during the summer months for instruction in all branches pertaining to a thorough business course.

Musical.

PROF. B A NORVILLE and daughter of New York city will give a vocal concert at Madison Hall, on to-morrow (Thursday) evening. The press are universal in their praise of the musical ability of Miss Norville and wherever she has sang the audience has been charmed by the voice of the singer. The professor comes to our city bringing letters of introduction from gentlemen well known to some of our citizens and they all commend him to the patronage of the music loving people. The first concert given at Akron was so well received by the citizens of that city that Prof. N. and daughter have consented at the earnest request of the people to give another concert. Prof. Kortheur will will preside at one of Higley's best.

ALF BURNET COMING—To be here next Wednesday evening, April 7th, at Madison Hall. It will be a good time for the lean fellows to laugh and grow fat—or laugh anyhow—for Alf can bring the cachinations out of as sour as ascetic as walks the earth, if he has eyes to see, ears to hear, and a mind to comprehend the actor's mimicries. But leaving amusement out of the question his declamations, of a serious and dignified character, are well worth listening to. Call in and see him. His several visits here will be remembered.

By notice elsewhere it will be seen tha Prof. Norville and daughter of New York will give a vocal concert at Madison Hall to-morrow evening. We urge those of our citizens who enjoy a musical treat to be present os Miss Norville is a fine singer.

OUR FAMILY PHYSICIAN.—This is the title of a new book just published by C. F. Vent, Cincinnati. It is a small, practical manual for treating the common diseases to which families and individuals are subject, without the aid of a physician. It does not propose to dispense with the doctor in difficult cases, but to instruct heads of families and others how to proceed in cases which are simple and easily managed, and when the doctor is absent or distant and cannot be speedily obtained. What is new and peculiar in this volume, is, that it gives the different methods of treatment practiced by the principal schools of medicine in our country, viz: Allopathic, Homeopathic, Eclectic, Herbal and Hydropathic. Thus, if a person has a preference for any particular system he can adopt the one he prefers, and if that fails he can try another. The book is the production of a learned and eminent physician belonging to one of the popular schools. It is written in plain, simple language, avoiding doctor's terms as much as possible, and explaining such words as are not readily understood. Every family should have a copy. A Fletcher, agent; sold only by subscription. Price $2,50

The Mite Society of the M E church on Monday evening had an oyster supper at Mrs Earl's which was attended by large numbers. The evening was pleasantly and socially spent by all, and we presume a fair reward was realized by the energetic ladies who had control of the entertainment.

THE population of West Massillon is so rapidly increasing that we are informed the citizens contemplate erecting a new school house, as the present building is becoming too small for the admission of the children who should be at school.

Since the advent of the velocipede teachers here an interest has been waked up in favor of this means of moving, and a number of our young men have already become masters, to some extent, of the new art. They can pass along the sidewalk quite well; but those teachers when they appear dash ahead after the John Gilpin style, amid no fears of falling off. Tremont hall is well patronized.

On Monday night some one inspired by the malignity of the wolf or the hyena pushed over an elegantly finished tombstone at Mr Killinger's marble works, injuring the work so that much of it will have to be done over again. It is difficult to fathom the depths of such meanness; and whoever did it—if not too drunk to have his moral sense stupefied—is fit for theft, robbery, arson, or any other crime.

Go and hear Miss Norville sing the Nightingales Trill at Madison Hall tomorrow evening.

Now that the time for house cleaning and moving is here people want new window curtains, and what is nicer than the rustic window shades, for sale at the news room. Green or brown, plain or gilded. Call and see them.

Quantities of stone and brick are already on the ground preparatory to the erection of the railroad buildings.

The schools of this place will resume on Monday next.

Gas came out all right Monday evening. The river has been rapidly subsiding notwithstanding the late rains.

One of our citizens lost about $300 worth of wood by the recent flood. Other parties of the country have been heavy sufferers from inundations within the last few days.

A few Bibles. Hymn books, Psalmists and Prayer books, cheap, to close out stock at the news room.

A thorough practical system of book-keeping taught at Wilder & Humer's business college.

MR. EDITOR:—Permit me to state that at the examination on Friday, P. M., having my thoughts directed to the customary school routine, I neglected to express my thanks to the board of examiners for their unremunerated service. The omission was not from a want of appreciation of the importance of the duties connected with their position, or the arduous labors attending it, but from the fact, that they are more intimately connected with the trustees, by whom they were appointed, and by one of whom they were twice referred to in his closing remarks.

It was my full intention also to call on the ministers present to make a few remarks, but unexpected circumstances prevented. JOSEPH KIMBALL, Supt.

By next week some of our subscribers will have changed their places of residence, and if they should fail to receive the paper we ask that they promptly report, so that omissions may be filled immediately.

The contractor has commenced on this end of the railroad, and is pushing the work vigorously. Much has been done on the north end, and from the energy exhibited it would appear that by the first of July we may be in direct communication with Cleveland.

Mr Arnold has taken possession of his new purchase, known as the co-operative store, and an invoice is nearly or quite completed.

The recent rains cause our streets to be unusually muddy. March leaves us somewhat roughly.

Mr. FROST—Dear Sir: If not too late for this day's paper, I wish you would say that I am opening some more new spring goods. Also, a few more of those cheap carpets left.

E. D. M. on the Perpetuity of the Republic.

Mr. E. D. Mansfield, the well-known E. D. M., of the Cincinnati Gazette, on Tuesday evening lectured before the Y M C A of Cincinnati on the Perpetuity of Republican institutions. In his conclusion he said:

"If I have shown that our republic does differ in essential constitution from all other republics; that those differences are vital to the freedom and advancement of the nation; that it has stood the severest test to which a nation can be subjected, & in the hour of that trial it has brought confidence to humanity and Christian civilization, for which we may search the history of other nations in vain, why should we not believe in the perpetuity of the republic? Only one obstacle remains, but that is irremovable. It is the defect of human nature. It is human nature which renders human institutions frail and perishable. God has inseparably connected national success with national virtue. 'Can it be,' said Washington, in his farewell address, 'that providence has connected the permanent felicity of a nation with its virtue? The experiment, at least, is recommended by every sentiment which enobles human nature. Alas! It is rendered impossible by its vices.' Then having seen the triumph of revolution, and considered all the policy which is necessary to republican success, Washington, calmly looked over the horizon of the future, saw no danger so great as that which belongs to the vices of human nature. The danger remains, the same. We can win victories over others, can we win victory over ourselves? Again we have passed through another revolution; again the republic is successful; again we are restoring the broken structures and rebuilding the waste places; again we raise the shout of victory and hail with joy the flag which has so long waved amid the battle The great Christian republic looks abroad upon earth and finds no superior; again we look in upon ourselves and ask is the perpetuity of the republic made impossible by its vices? We have survived war and slavery. Can we survive faction and corruption? Heaven is favorable. The victory is ours. Success is possible. Then let us take, on the altars of our fathers, the Greek oath, by the dead in battles slain and by the souls of all the martyrs to their country—let us swear eternal fealty to that country saved by their blood.

Gen. Longstreet, according to a very confident report in the N Y World, will decline the surveyorship of customs at New Orleans, to which he has been nominated by president Grant. The reason for this action is stated to be the desire on the part of general Longstreet to demonstrate, as he esteems only a declination can, that his adhesion to Radicalism has not been due to any expectation of recompense or reward. Gen. Longstreet feels, it is said, that his recent adoption of the creed of the republican party alone, among all of his eminent comrades, among the people who used to worship his fame and name, should be shown to arise from principle and not from interest. If this be true, it will greatly heighten the respect in which General Longstreet is held.

Serious Progress of the Cuban Revolution.

By telegram from Havana, dated yesterday, we learn that the Cuban revolution is in most serious progress as against the Spanish authority, and, in consequence of recent successes, that the insurgents are likely to obtain the aid of some of the leading men of island, official and non official. A commission from Trindad reported to the captain general that Senor Patino, governor of that place, was actively disloyal; that he matched troops to places where there was no enemy, and that they believed he had sold himself to the insurgents. Similar complaints had been lodged against other prominent officials, and a general distrust of executive good faith appeared to prevail. The commander of the forces in the field near Remedos was charged with open complicity with the insurrection. Four companies of mobilized volunteers had gone over to the enemy, and Gen. Letona's advance had been defeated near Cienfuegos. Expeditionary forces from the United States, well supplied with arms, are said to have landed on the shores and joined the rebel armies at different points. It appears as if the movement were the beginning of the end of Spanish authority in Cuba.

Special Notices.

Manhood.

In the young and rising generation, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed form school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from the ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on: the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman: is looked for in vain: the parents heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, for weakness arising from excess or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: indisposition to exertion loss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, general weakness, horror of disease, weak nerves, trembling, dreadful horror of death, night sweats, cold feet, wakefulness, dimness of vision, languor, universal lassitude of the muscular system, often enormous appetite with dyspeptic symptoms, bad breath, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, pallid countenance and eruptions on the face, pain in the back, heaviness of the eyelids, frequently black spots flying before the eyes, with temporary suffusion and loss of sight, want of attention, great mobility, restlessness with horror of society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves: no repose of manner, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

These symptoms if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow loss of power, futuity, and pileptic fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the superintendance of Dr Wilson at the Bloomingdale asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients: reason had for a time left them, and both died of cholera. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by these direful diseases, insanity and consumption! The records of the lunatic asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In lunatic asylums the most distressing exhibition appears. The countenance is quite sodden and destitute—neither mirth or grief ever visits it. Should a sound at the voice occur, it is rarely articulate,

"With woeful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. Helmbold's Highly concentrated fluid extract of Buchu It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by druggists everywhere. Price—$1,25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications. Address H T HELMBOLD, drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my chemical warehouse, and signed 299 2m H. T. HELMBOLD.

A Malarious Month.

Marce that gives us a new president, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders. Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alteration of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these little unpleasantnesses, is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with Hostetters Stomach Bitters.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at c orner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the union keeps on hand Hostetters Bitters. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar, as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions annually, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents as well as cures these complaints and their complications, that it is not bad to take, and is absolutely harmless. 296 4w

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for

Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA,

Nervous Debility,

JAUNDICE,

Diseases of the Kidneys,

ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from all others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilirating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.
Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1836.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Price of the Bitters, $1 00 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $5 00.
Price of the Tonic, $1 50 per bottle;
Or, a half dozen for $7 50.

The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggists to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the

The Children.

BY CHARLES DICKENS.

When the lessons and tasks are all ended,
And the school for the day is dismissed,
And the little ones gather around me,
To bid me good night and be kissed;
Oh, the little white arms that encircle
My neck in a tender embrace!
Oh, the smiles that are halos of heaven,
Shedding sunshine of love in my face.

And when they are gone I sit dreaming
Of my childhood too lovely to last—
Of love that my heart will remember,
When it wakes to the pulse of the past:
Ere the world and its wickedness made me
A partner of sorrow and sin:
When the glory of God was about me,
And the glory of gladness within.

Oh, my heart grows weak as a woman's
And the fountains of feeling will flow
When I think of the paths steep and stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go:
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them,
Of the tempest of fate blowing wild—
Oh! there's nothing on earth half so holy
As the innocent heart of a child!

They are idols of hearts and of households—
They are angels of God in disguise:
His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses,
His glory still gleams in their eyes:
Oh! those truants from home and from heaven.
They have made me more manly and mild—
And I know how Jesus could liken
The kingdom of God to a child.

I ask not a life for the dear ones,
All radiant as others have done,
But that life may have just enough shadow,
To temper the glare of the sun:
I would pray God to guard them from evil,
But my prayer would bound back to myself:
Ah, a seraph may pray for a sinner,
But a sinner must pray for himself.

The twig is so easily bended,
I have banished the rule and the rod—
I have taught them the goodness of knowledge.
They have taught me the goodness of God:
My heart is a dungeon of darkness,
Where I shut them from breaking a rule—
My frown is sufficient correction,
My love is the law of the school.

I shall leave the old house in the autumn,
To traverse its threshold no more—
Ah! how I shall sigh for the dear ones,
That meet me each morn at the door!
I shall miss the 'good nights' and the kisses,
And the gush of their innocent glee,
The group on the green, and the flowers
That are brought every morning to me.

I shall miss them at morn and at evening,
Their song in the school and the street—
I shall miss the low hum of their voices,
And the tramp of their delicate feet.
When the lessons and the tasks are all ended,
And death says, "the school is dismissed!"
May the little ones gather around me,
To bid me good night and be kissed.

Saved from the Wave.

The summer leaeves have faded, and in the grove where the young girls sat that warm, bright day, the snow lies thick and untrodden. The three friends are at school in New York, but Nellie is expected home to-night and there all is in readiness. The warm fire blazes in the wide fire place, and as her father puts on his great coat and prepares to go to the boat to meet her, he says, "How nice it will be, wife, to have our baby home again!"

But the night wears away and brings no Nellie. For many hours the anxious father has been waiting at the pier for the steamer which was to bear his darling to his heart. The waves plash coldly against the wharf, but tell no tales of the missing boat; the lights twinkle and flash from the surrounding hills, but no approaching light comes over the waters. A crowd gathers round and excitedly they talk of shipwrecks, burning steamers, etc, till every heart is fluttering with nervous agitation.

"Hurrah! hurrah! here she comes!" and proudly a stately vessel sails up to the pier,—a stranger vessel—what does it mean?

"The Ocean Breeze has gone down with all on board!" shouted a voice from the deck.

Silence in that dreary home; the fire has died out in the yawning fire place, and alone in the tomb-like room sit the unhappy parents, dead to all outward objects save the one terrible thought—Nellie is drowned.

Now and then a twig or leaf taps against the window, and they start nervously.

The morning dawns—the neighbors come in with acts of love and pity.

"Poor little baby?" sighs old Widow Smith. "To think o' that curly head a lyin at the bottom of the river. Well, well! this is a world of change. Surely! surely!"

The long day approaches to its close; the departing sunbeams look cold and pale.

"Father, mother, here's your baby, spared a little longer to tease and bother you. Why, if they aint both crying! Sorry I've been saved. I'll warrant. Here, mother, father, look my and thank this gentleman for saving me; for if it had not been for him, your little Nell would indeed be lying at the bottom of the river!"

Oh, blessed transition from grief to joy. The setting sun goes down in a great sea of blood; the room is filled with a glorious radiance; the great log rolls over on the brass andirons, and the laugh and leap for joy.—From "Nothing but a Baby," in Phrenological Journal for April.

BROKE HIS ARM.—Willie was riding with his father and mother, one day. When the carriage stopped, Willie jumped to the ground, and catching his foot as he did so, fell his whole weight upon one arm. Scream after scream! 'O, I've broken my arm! I've broken my arm!' he shrieked. Tenderly his father took him in his arms, and carefully examined to learn the extent of the injury, while Willie continued moaning. 'What makes you think it is broken.'

'O, it is broken, for I can't lift it as high as I used to,' again groaning as he raised it as high as his head.

'How high could you formerly lift it?'

'Why, I could lift it so high,' said Willie raising it far above his head!

His father and mother could not suppress a laugh, and Willie concluded that his arm was not broken very

DEATH FROM TOBACCO.—A correspondent calls the attention of the Montreal Witness to the deaths of two excellent gentlemen in this vicinity, from no other apparent cause than the excessive use of tobacco. The one was an inveterate smoker, and the other was an inveterate chewer. The former was said to have died from general debility; the latter died after frequent and terrible convulsions. These are among the many legitimate effects of poisoning by nicotine. Are there not many who are unconsciously but actually committing suicide in this way? What constitutes the difference in point of culpability between death from such a cause and that by delerium tremens?

Take the whites of four eggs and ten cents worth of quicksilver; put them into a bowl and beat to a perfect froth. Take a feather and dip into this preparation, and apply to every part of your bedstead where bugs conceal themselves; do this once a year and you will never see a bed bug in your house.

A good story is told of a German shoemaker in Utica, who having made a pair of boots for a gentleman of whose financial integrity he had considerable doubt, made the following reply to him when he called for the articles: "Der boots ish not quite done, but der bill ish made out."

Window glass is almost unknown in China, oiled paper being used as a substitute, admitting light dimly. The streets are unpaved and very filthy. In wet weather they are a sea of mud, and in dry weather they are a bed of dust. The only public conveyances in Pekin are covered carts without spring. There is not a single vehicle in the city that possesses springs.

In Pennsylvania India rubber shoes are sometimes called "gums." A gentleman from Philadelphia, with his wife, was on a visit to New York, and on returning to the house of their host one evening, the gentleman entered the parlor alone. "Why where is Emily?" He answered, "Oh, Emily is outside, cleaning her gums on the mat."

The rapidity with which Plantation Bitters have become a household necessity throughout the civilized nations is without a parallel in the history of the world. Over five million bottles were sold in twelve months, and the demand is daily increasing. Rich and poor, young and old, ladies, physicians and clergymen, find that it revives drooping spirits, lends strength to the system, vigor to the mind, and is exhausted nature's great restorer. It is compounded of the choicest roots and herbs, the celebrated Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, etc., all preserved in pure St Croix rum. It is sold by all respectable dealers in every town, parish, village and hamlet through North and South America, Europe, and all the islands of the ocean.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.—1v274

A MERITORIOUS ARTICLE.—We are tired of this idea of puffing humbug medicines that are constaatly thrown into drug stores, and are rarely an imposition upon community. But when an article comes into the market that is really worthy of comment, we are happy to make public acknowledgment trusting that some benefit may arise therefrom. Dr R V Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and we take pleasure in calling attention to it because we know it to be a good article, and a sure cure for that loathsome disease, catarrh. It is sold by most druggists, or may be obtained for sixty cents through the mail by addressing the proprietor as above.—Cleveland Herald. 21-99

JUST THE THING.—Persons suffering from that implicable disease, Catarrh, should by all means give Sage's Catarrh Remedy a thorough trial. It has been before the public but a few years, yet already ranks as the standard remedy for diseases of the nasal and upper air passages, and we hear it very highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietor R V Pierce, M D of Buffalo, N Y, as will be seen by his advertisement, offers a standing reward of $500 for a case of catarrh that he cannot cure. For sale by most druggists everywhere. Sent by mail for sixty cents.—Pontiac Jacksonian. 300-2t

WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL.

The means of protecting the human system against the predisposing causes of diseases such as dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, Impurities of the blood, and a certain cure for all of them, is Mishler's Celebrated Herb Ritters.

COAL.—Persons desiring to purchase coal in large or small quantities, should leave their orders at C N Oberlin's grocery, for a superior article of the well known Willow Bank Coal. This coal has the reputation of being equal if not superior to that of any other bank in the county. All orders promptly filled. [tf 275] CYRUS YOUNG.

GREAT DISTRIBUTION

OF THE

YOUNGSTOWN PERSONAL PROPERTY AND REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION.

THIS ASSOCIATION, established in the city of Youngstown Ohio, proposes to distribute among its Shareholders, by Public Drawing, to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M.,

ON THE 28TH OF APRIL, 1869.

AT EXCELSIOR HALL, in said City, a large amount of Personal Property and Real Estate, the property of the Association.

Shares.

Shares are issued by the Association at $5.00 each—half and quarter shares in proportion. Each share is numbered and entitles the holder of the certificate of said share to such article of personal or real property as may be distributed to it at the drawing. Half and quarter shares to have half and quarter interests in the property.

Distribution.

Every article to be distributed will be numbered in a schedule prepared by the officers of the Association, and a printed copy will be furnished to every shareholder. The drawing will be superintended by a committee of five disinterested gentlemen. Numbers corresponding to the numbers of all the certificates of shares, and numbers representing all the articles of property to be distributed, will be placed in different receptacles. One number will be drawn from each receptacle and the holder of the certificate whose number is drawn shall be entitled to the article whose number is drawn to it.

Real Estate.

The Real Estate of the Association consists of a large number of building lots, now vacant, and other lots on which are erected dwelling houses with suitable appurtenances, furnishing very desirable residences. This property is all within the City of Youngstown, and may be more particularly specified as follows:

City Lots.

FIFTY Lots, from fifty to one hundred feet front by one hundred and fifty feet deep, situated in the south-east part of the city in close proximity to the immense iron works, comprising rolling mills, nail factories, and furnaces, of Brown, Bonnell & Co—to the Hazard Furnaces—to the foundries and machine shops of Homer Hamilton & Co. and of Ward, Margerum & Co—to the bolt and nut factory of the Youngstown Manufacturing Co—to the depot of the Lawrence Railroad Co, and to other manufacturing and business establishments. They lie on the western bank of the Mahoning river, a short distance south and east of the Presque Isle street bridge, and front on Gibson, Park, Vine, Packard, Grand, and River streets, furnishing admirable building sites. The soil allows the construction of dry cellars, and durable wells of excellent water are attainable by digging to a moderate depth. Lots valued at $300 each.

Dwelling Houses and Lots.

These consist of TEN new frame houses, nicely painted outside and inside and in perfect order, and are located as follows.

FIVE on Scott street in the northern part of the city, and but a few rods from Wick avenue, the Fifth ovenue or Euclid street of the city, into which Scott street runs at right angles. They are two stories and contain each six rooms, four below and two above, on lots fifty by one hundred and eighty feet, and will be fitted up for gas early in the spring, or as soon as pipes can be laid along Scott street, being extended already up Wick avenue. Valued at $3000 each, and rent at $250 per annum.

FIVE on Liberty street (formerly Holmes' road) and Rayen avenue, in the north-west quarter of the city, a few rods from the Cleveland and Mahoning R R depot. They are designated by numbers on a plat. No 1, corner of Liberty street and Rayen avenue, is two stories, has one grate, contains three rooms below and two above, papered, and a cellar kitchen. Lot sixty-five front front by one hundred and twenty-one feet deep. Nos 2, 3 and 4 on Liberty street are of three stories each, has two grates; size of lots, No 2 57 feet front by 121 deep; No 3 is 18 feet front by 98 deep; No 4 is 47½ front, 93 feet rear, 119½ north side and 88½ south side on Pine street: No 5 on Rayen avenue is of two stories with four rooms below and two above, and cellar kitchen. Lot 43 front by 122 deep. Valued at $3000 each and rent for $360 per annum.

Horses.

SIX celebrated blooded horses, pacers and trotters, all of whom have won purses and all perfectly sound and in good condition. They are

GRAY EAGLE—can pace his mile in 2:20. His biggest race was at Pittsburg, in 1867. First heat 2:23¾. 2d heat 2:23¾. 3d heat 2:24½. 4th heat 2:24¼; and 5th heat 2:25. Since that he has made better time, and is considered the best pacer in this part of the country. Valued at $1800.

MIKE GOODWIN, the best trotter in the west. He has lately trotted in Akron, Youngstown and Ravenna, Ohio, and Jamestown, N Y, and won every race. Valued at $2,500.

GAY TOM, Trotter—a fine young blooded horse, can be made to go his mile in $2.40 or less, won his first race in Youngstown Driving Park, in the fall of 1868. Valued at $800.

HONEST JANE can trot her mile in less than 2:40. Has won several important races in this part of the country—has a wide reputation. Valued at $800

QUEEN EMMA—Trotter—time 2:40—known in the southern part of the state as the Page Mare. Sire, Abdallah Chief: age, six years: perfectly gentle, and one of the most promising young mares in the country. Valued at $1200.

WILD TURKEY—Trotter—time, 2:40—has made his mile in less—has won several races—is well known in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. Valued at $1200.

Miscellaneous.

A variety of Miscellaneous Articles, all of worth and value. The total number of articles to be distributed is Fourteen Hundred, and no article of less value than Five Dollars.

Cant you get up a club of 10, 20, 30 or more, and make an investment in this manner? For a club of One Hundred Dollars take, say,

Five whole Certificates $5 00
Ten half.....do..... 25 00
Forty quarter do..... 100 00—$100

This gives you 55 chances to get your investment back, and the probabilities are that in this assortment you must make money. You see there is one chance is ten in whole certificates, and four chances is ten in quarter certificates. The safest plan is quarter shares, as you increase your chances, but at the same time decrease the amount you will draw. A half share draws one-half of any thing, a whole share the entire article. We shall be glad to hear from you at any time.

Summary.

The officers of this Association pledge themselves that the utmost fairness shall be used in the management and in the distribution, that the articles are all of genuine worth and as represented; that the title to Real Estate is indisputable, and that all the Personal Property and Deeds of the Real Estate will be in readiness and delivered immediately after the Drawing. Furthermore, the Treasurer binds himself, in case anything should occur to stop the progress of the enterprise and the drawing does not take place, that the money paid for certificates will be repaid at the hardware store of W & J A Packard Youngstown, Ohio.

All letters containing remittances addressed to A J Packard, Treasurer, Youngstown Ohio, will meet prompt response and certificates of shares will be forwarded by return mail. All letters of inquiry, &c, as above, or to the Secretary.
